Historical note

The annual exhibitions were large group exhibitions selected partly by jury and partly through invitation. By the early 1880s European art was no longer accepted, and the exhibitions took on a marked American character. The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts annuals were among the two or three most prestigious and important exhibitions in the country. Until 1903 the annual exhibitions included oils, watercolors, prints, drawings, and sculpture. In 1904 watercolors, prints, and drawings were segregated into a separate annual exhibition, which also featured the annual display of the Pennsylvania Society of Miniature Painters. Thus, from 1904 to 1953, the Academy mounted two annual exhibitions. In 1954 the Academy held only the 149th Annual Exhibition of Painting and Sculpture; in 1955 only the special-format 150th Anniversary Exhibition took place; and in 1956 only the 151st Annual Exhibition of Painting and Sculpture was held. From 1957 to 1969 the annual exhibition of painting and sculpture alternated with the annual exhibition of watercolors, prints, and drawings. The exhibitions devoted to painting and sculpture occurred in 1958, 1960, 1962, 1964, 1966, and 1968.

The annual exhibitions (which included works from the Academy's permanent collection until about 1880) and some of the special exhibitions were indexed through 1870 by Anna Wells Rutledge. Her work, Cumulative Record of Exhibition Catalogues, 1807–1870, was published by the American Philosophical Society in 1955. This volume has been reissued, with additional material, by Sound View Press of Madison, Connecticut, and is the first of a three-volume series titled The Annual Exhibition Record of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts. Volume 2 indexes the annual exhibitions from 1876 to 1913, and volume 3 covers those from 1914 to 1968. All three volumes include informative background essays and research advice. Volumes 2 and 3 do not index the many special exhibitions or the annual exhibitions of watercolors, prints, and drawings, which were cosponsored by the Philadelphia Watercolor Club and the Pennsylvania Society of Miniature Painters. The latter series is indexed on file cards available in the Archives.

Annual exhibitions were accompanied by what modern usage would call a checklist, which contained virtually no narrative or descriptive material. Dimensions of works were not recorded. Illustrations consisted of pen and ink sketches from 1880 to 1884 and photographs from 1894 to 1969. After 1944 illustrations were limited to prizewinners. In The Annual Exhibition Record, illustrated works are denoted with a small open square.

Numerous prizes were awarded in both series of annual exhibitions, usually selected by the jury for the show. The winners in the oil/sculpture annuals are listed in the second and third volumes of The Annual Exhibition Record, which also contain descriptions of each prize. The Archives has a card-file index of prizewinners in the annual exhibitions of watercolors, prints, and drawings.

Installation photographs survive for 1877, 1893–96, 1898–1902 (limited), and 1903–13 (extensive). For 1913 to 1969 very few installation photographs are preserved. In most years, almost all of the photographs reproduced in the exhibition catalogues are also on file.
